DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office action addresses claims 59-71 and newly added claims 84-102. All the claims are newly rejected under 35 USC §112, first paragraph as necessitated by amendment. Accordingly, this action is made final.

It is noted that Applicant has used single brackets to indicate a deletion in amended claim 59. Pursuant to 37 CFR §1.121, single brackets are no longer acceptable markings to indicate deletions. Such deletions must be shown by using a strikethrough marking, or in certain instances, double brackets.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 59-71 and 84-102 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 59 has been amended to recite that the cumulative performance of the cell is "at least 18.98 Ah," and claim 84 recites "at least 15.41 Ah." Applicant cites the

Examples (Table 1) of the specification as supporting these limitations; however, it is submitted that Table 1 does not adequately support the new ranges. The Table discloses values of 18.97 and 15.40 Ah for the prior art battery. Applicant's claimed ranges of at least 18.98 and at least 15.41 introduce new endpoints that are not supported by the Table. Further, the ranges are open-ended and encompass values much higher than the highest values in the Table. It is submitted that if Applicant wishes to claim such ranges, he is essentially limited to the endpoints shown in the Table. Alternatively, Applicant may choose to remove the new range limitations and restore the previous product-by-process language. This way, Applicant may argue that the cell(s) produced by the claimed process(es) perform better than the cell produced by the prior art process, as evidenced by the data shown in the Tables. This is generally an acceptable way of patentably distinguishing claims written in a product-by-process format. It is further noted that Applicant appears to have shown favorable results in the Tables with regard to the previously applied prior art, U.S. Patent 5,626,988. The claims may be allowable over this reference if this rejection under 35 USC §112 is obviated. Applicant is advised, however, to take into account anode design "C", which actually does not appear to perform as well as the prior art cell. As a further note, some of the dependent claims (e.g., 97-102) also appear to recite open-ended ranges having unsupported endpoints. These claims are considered to contain new matter for the same reasons as independent claims 59 and 84. Finally, Applicant is advised that entry of any amendment after final rejection is not a matter of right, and that such an amendment may be denied entry if it raises new issues requiring substantial further consideration. However, the Examiner is open to considering an amendment that addresses the above-noted problems and clearly places the application in condition for allowance.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
